

IFAPA TRAINING

Responding to Cultural Differences – What’s a Parent to Do? (6 hrs credit) - Designed for foster and foster/adoptive parents, this training will describe techniques and strategies that integrate cultural responsiveness into everyday life in a foster or adoptive home. More importantly, this training will focus on practical ideas for dealing with issues of cultural, racial, and ethnic “lenses” that impact shared parenting and working with other professionals.

Trainers: Heather Craig-Oldsen, MSW, CSW

Heather Craig-Oldsen is an Associate Professor, Department Chair, Director of Social Work Program, and Principle Investigator for the Siouxland Indian Child Welfare Traineeship Project for Briar Cliff University. Ms. Craig-Oldsen has developed and delivered culturally responsive training programs in several states and at national conferences, such as National Foster Parent Association and the National Staff Development and Training Association. This workshop format is based upon her previous experiences.
